DESCRIPTION

The Eiger thermal leggings are the essential base layer to shield you from cold and moisture on demanding workdays. Crafted from a quick-drying technical fabric (65% polyamide – 35% polyester), they strike the perfect balance between thermal insulation and breathability, keeping your legs warm and dry even during intense activity.

Strategically placed breathable inserts provide targeted airflow in high-sweat zones, helping regulate body temperature and ensuring long-lasting comfort. An ergonomic cut and close-fitting design allow the leggings to move with your body without restriction, making them the perfect layer under winter trousers.

Choose Eiger for reliable protection and all-day comfort in any working condition.
